Collector Horan Lists Tax Rate for Antioch Township and Village

Bills to Be Mailed July 23; Deadline to Be Told at Later Date

School taxes will be slightly less in Antioch this year but the total tax bill may be a little higher for most citizens than it was last year. The fact that the township collector is empty accounts for an increase in the town tax, while bonded indebtedness accounts for the increase in the village tax, according to figures furnished by John L. Horan, town tax collector.

Most of the rural schools have a high tax rate this year because of building or increased educational costs.

Horan said that he doesn't expect to be able to mail out statements until July 23, a month later than last year owing to delays at the county seat. He expects to be notified later as to the deadline on payments.

Noting a multiple of $1.1236 as determined by the department of revenue at Springfield the rates to be charged for 1954 taxes are as follows. (Last year's rate is listed in the first column and this year's in the second.)

Two Injured and Car Destroyed by Fire in Collision Sunday Night

Both the Antioch Rescue Squad and the fire department went into action at 10:30 p. m. Sunday when cars collided at rte. 173 and Deep Lake rd. and one of them burst into flames.

The eastbound car of Anthony A. Bobis of Chicago struck the car of Gottfried Grumbacker, 50, Milwaukee as it turned east on rte. 173 from Deep Lake rd., hurling it into a ditch where it caught fire.

Fire chief Edgar Simonsen is of the belief that the impact of cars burst the gasoline tank and the fuel ignited. The car was destroyed.

The rescue squad took Grumbacker to Victory Memorial hospital for treatment of head and back injuries. Loretta Micka, Chicago, was treated by a physician for an arm cut, according to sheriff's deputies.

She was survived by her five children, Walter and George of Chicago, Thomas of Minneapolis, Mrs. Mable Webber and Mrs. Muriel Fitch of Chicago, who were present with a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and its rites were held for her on Monday night. She was also past president of the Felter's Subdivision woman's group.

Route 21 Blacktopped, Travel on 59 Checked

There is a vast difference this week in the ease of travel over Rte. 21 over that of a few weeks ago. The pavement has been blacktopped and the holes and bumps have disappeared. There remains the heightening of the shoulder to be completed.

State highway representatives operated on Rte. 59 south of Antioch this week in recording the trips of motorists. Each driver was stopped and asked his point of departure and destination in an attempt to ascertain the nature of traffic on the highway.

Carlson Ford Sales, Inc. Gets Citation for Large Sales in Antioch Area

Carlson Ford Sales, Inc., the Ford dealership located at Antioch has been presented a special Leadership citation by Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Company.

The local dealership won the citation, because more Ford cars were sold in 1954 than any other make in the dealer's area of primary sales responsibility. High standards of customer service also contributed to Carlson Ford Sales, Inc., winning this award.

The Antioch agency is one of approximately 3,000 Ford dealers to receive this citation from Henry Ford, II. On a national scale, retail sales of Ford cars in 1954 exceeded those of any other make by 25,257 units.

Village Board Becomes Serious Over Half-cent Sales Tax Proposal

Offstreet Parking and Sales Tax for Village to Be Discussed

Members of the village board are in earnest over the plan of establishing a sales tax to augment the village tax income and thereby provide an off-street parking lot and other necessities.

A proposal was made to buy land and let parking meters pay it off, but when Street Chairman Murrill Cunningham and Trustee E. H. Glenn got to figuring they discovered that the sales tax would bring in far greater revenue. One firm alone would bring in $250 weekly.

Clerk Clarence Shultis has been instructed to get information on the amount of sales in Antioch last year, so that the trustees can do a little more figuring, and Atty. E. C. Jacobs has been asked to probe the law on village sales tax for possible enactment.

Since the state has put on the half cent sales tax and few complaints have been heard, the trustees believe a half cent more won't be disturbing.

Warriner Subdivision Residents Oppose Plan To Open Deadend St.

Give Views in Special Meeting of Village Bd. Called for This Purpose

Residents of the Warriner Subdivision don't want their present street arrangement disturbed.

This they told members of the village board in a special meeting of the trustees Monday evening.

The meeting was called after the property owners of that subdivision became aware that their only thoroughfare, Windsor, dr. was being connected with a street in the subdivision to the south now being opened by Frank Powles, Antioch grocer and former village trustee, who bought the land from Mrs. Edna Warriner.

Village employees removed a tree and some bushes that made both streets in the Warriner and Powles subdivisions deadends, and Warriner residents began to see their seclusion waning.

Employing Atty. Ted C. Larson as their spokesman, the property owners placed before the board their situation, which summed up is that they have sought the subdivision because of its seclusion from the general public and its traffic, and because of the safety of the 22 young children from traffic dangers.

Admitting inconveniences of lack of sidewalks, good paved streets and street lights, one after another told of the greater advantage of seclusion and safety to the children.

Among the spokesmen were K. F. Detrick, Ray Toft, Dr. C. P. Tossy, Dr. James Kopriwa, Lelliam Lempe, Ray Bruhn, Everett Runnfeldt, Marvin Topper, and Bruno Manzardo.

Legal Basis Not Considered

"We are not discussing this on a legal basis," said Atty. Larson. "We are contending on the basis that the scheme of the subdivision was guaranteed to purchasers of the property, and it was for this reason that homes were built there."

Atty. Larson previously had said that the homes were built there because the purchasers of property were told that Windsor drive was always to be a deadend street. He (continued on page 7)

Arlene Cribb Crowned American Legion Queen At Close of Carnival

Arlene Cribb and her mother, Mrs. Harlo Cribb of Depot st., will leave the last of this month or the first week in August for an all-expense-paid four-day trip to Washington, D. C., as the result of Arlene's victory in the American Legion Queen contest.

"I am grateful to all who helped me win and am very happy," Miss Cribb told the Antioch News. She was sponsored by Reeves Drug Store.

She was well out in front of the other three contestants with a total of 31,680 votes when the last ballot was cast during the Legion Carnival Sunday night. She was immediately crowned by Miss Virginia Runge, last year's winner.

Second in the contest, and the winner of the $100 bond, was Miss Ella Mae Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edwards who received 19,310 votes.

Third place winner, Miss Carol Frazier, will receive a $75 bond, and fourth place winner, Miss Edwyna Chernik will receive a $50 bond.

The carnival had good weather and was a financial success in its new location at the high school parking lot.

Motorist and Tavern Operators Sued for $120,000 by Injured

Ted Kaptain and wife, Florence, and their children, and Lois and Eugene Compton, all of Antioch, have brought suit for $120,000 against Juan Rios Ynocenti, 21, of Mount Prospect and operators of three taverns as the result of an accident in which three persons were killed.

The tavern owners are Pete Volpenestra and his wife, operators of the Seven V's tavern, Milwaukee ave. and Rte. 21; Carmi Montatelli, operator of Carni's tavern, Prairie View; and David Lee Grana, operator of Prairie View Tavern, Prairie View.

Ynocenti was the driver of a car which on June 5, struck the car in which relatives of the plaintiffs were killed. It was alleged that the three taverns sold liquor to Ynocenti who was drunk at the time of the crash. Each of the plaintiffs asks $15,000.

Special Meeting of Antioch Business Men Called for 8 Tonight

A special meeting of all merchants in Antioch and vicinity has been called by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce for discussion of a village sales tax and off street parking.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in the Rescue Squad building, according to notices sent out by O. I. Onstad, secretary.

Plans for the meeting were made at the regular meeting of the chamber Monday noon at Smart's Country House when it was learned that the Ackerman property may be fenced off from public use as a parking lot, and that the village board is considering the sales tax.

Possibly available for parking purposes is the land back of the business houses east of Main st.

Chairman Ed Sletten of the parking committee said that a topographical plat must be made of the area to determine just how much can be used as much of it is slough.

There was indication that the business men would oppose the sales tax.

Village trustees said that now that the state had imposed the half-cent additional tax, there would be little objection to the public paying the other half cent to the village. The half cent would be used to pay for parking space which would in the end benefit the merchants.

A problem involved in the parking area east of Main st. is the fact that there is an entrance from the south but none from the north. A trustee said that the village hall might be purchased by the business men and removed as a northern gateway, and the village could use the money to erect a village hall adjacent to the fire station as originally was planned.

Public Service Moving To New Building at Lake Villa on July 18

Local operating and commercial activities of Public Service Company will be transferred to newly constructed headquarters in Lake Villa on July 18, 1955, it was announced today by J. L. Wheeler, local superintendent of the utility.

Located on Park Avenue south of Burnette, the new building will include the office of the superintendent and serve as a reporting center for service and operating personnel in the lakes region.

In occupying its new quarters, the company will discontinue use of its former Grand Avenue location there. To provide convenient downtown facilities for Lake Villa customers to make bill payments and exchange light bulbs, the authorized company agency, Lake Villa Pharmacy, will be pleased to handle these transactions. Other service business may be transacted at the new headquarters, which will be open Mondays through Fridays, 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

The gas company that has shared the Grand ave., building will remain.

Chicago Fisherman Dies of Heart Attack At Bluff Lake Resort

Anton N. Chramosta, 57, of 4218 Ogden ave., Chicago, died of a heart attack at 7:25 a. m. Tuesday as he was preparing to go fishing from the Bluff Lake Lodge, where he had been a guest four days.

Chramosta, a sufferer from heart disease, walked to the boat landing with a companion, Fred Maas. At the pier he complained of illness and was advised by Maas to take some medicine he carried. After this was done Chramosta said he felt better, and got into the boat. As he did so he fell lifeless.

The Antioch Rescue squad was called by first aid care was regarded as useless.

Chramosta was a retired machinist. The only known survivor is a nephew, Emil Hudoba of 2214 Clinton st., Chicago.

The body was taken to the Strang Funeral home and then to a chapel at 6301 W. Cermak rd., Chicago where the funeral service will be held tomorrow with burial at Oak Ridge cemetery.

A coroner's inquiry here Tuesday determined that death was due to coronary thrombosis.

Northern Illinois Gas Company customers in the lake region are reminded that the utility's office on Grand avenue in Lake Villa, which it formerly shared with the Public Service Company, is open six days a week for their convenience from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon, and 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Collection Letters Will Be Mailed Next Week

A letter from State's Attorney Robert E. Nelson, received by Justice Richard B. Seyfarth today seems to insure that the lack of cooperation which has caused tax drives in the past to bog down will not be the case this year. Nelson has assured Supervisor Lloyd Murrle and the local Justices that his office will make every effort to collect the delinquent tax.

The letter which follows, authorizes the justices to issue summons to all who have unpaid taxes.

July 13, 1955

Mr. Richard B. Seyfarth, Justice of the Peace, Antioch, Illinois.

Dear Judge Seyfarth:

You are hereby authorized and directed to institute suits in your Court against all of the persons included in the list prepared by the County Treasurer and delivered to you by LLOYD MURRIE, your Supervisor, for the amount of the delinquent personal property tax for the year 1953 set opposite each name in said list.

You are further requested to deliver the summons issued in each suit to a Constable to be served upon the defendant named therein.

Thanking you, I am

Very truly yours,

(signed) ROBERT C. NELSON

States Attorney.

Seyfarth said today that letters of collection will be sent to all who have delinquent taxes, in the hope that non-payment has been an oversight. By paying now before legal action is taken, he said, the taxpayer will avoid payment of court costs and constable fees. These costs will amount to about $6.00 per suit and in many cases the amount of delinquent tax is not great and it is believed that those who have not paid will settle, rather than pay the additional costs.

Those who have not paid within 10 days after mailing of the letter will be issued a summons and called into court. State's Attorney Nelson told newsmen today that a judgment would be sought by his office in all cases, and added that defense against a tax suit is almost impossible, since it is only necessary to prove that the defendant is the person to whom the tax has been assessed and that the tax has not been paid.

Collection on the judgments rendered will be at order of the county treasurer, who is ex-officio tax collector, and Nelson said that his office would co-operate in the drive 100 per cent.

It was at the point of collection of the judgments rendered that the tax collection drives held in the past have bogged down, but Nelson has assured local officials that the full powers of his office will be brought to bear for collection this year.

Bank accounts, automobiles and television sets will be the target for collection of judgments, and Nelson said, "While I realize that tax collection is never popular, we feel that in all fairness to those hundreds of taxpayers who have paid, that the elected officials must, in justice, collect delinquent taxes. This is the only course which will insure that all citizens share in the cost of government."

Mrs. Catherine Harvatt Dies Unexpectedly at Home East of Salem

Mrs. Catherine Harvatt, 62, a resident of Salem Oaks on Hooker lake east of Salem, died unexpectedly at 1:30 p. m. CST yesterday as the result of a stroke.

The Antioch Rescue squad was called but was unable to revive her.

Mrs. Harvatt was born Nov. 3, 1892 in Chicago and had lived there until 9 months ago when her husband, Thomas Harvatt retired and they moved to Salem Oaks where they had been spending their summers for many years.

The funeral service will be held Saturday morning at Elmhurst, Ill., and burial will be in Mt. Emblem cemetery.

Script of Movie and Play Never Identical

"A stage script and a movie script are never identical because living theatre and the cinema are two distinctly different art forms." This is a statement made by Director John H. Fritz at the Woodstock Opera House concerning his forthcoming production "The Country Girl," and the comment that this show has recently appeared in movie form. The question arises as to which medium of entertainment is most successful in presenting the story—the stage or the screen.

Enforce the Driver License Law

A serious challenge to the Illinois driver license law has been presented in a case involving Armando Di Pietro, a Chicago cab driver, whose license was suspended by Secretary of State Carpentier. Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher ordered the state secretary to restore Di Pietro's license, holding that the licensing law is unconstitutional.

The judge's ruling involves a section of the law which gives the secretary of state discretionary authority to revoke or suspend licenses under certain conditions, including the conviction of a driver of not less than three "moving" traffic violations within 12 months. This section, the judge held, is unconstitutional because it delegates judicial and legislative powers to an administrative officer and because it violates the provision that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

Secretary Carpentier, on the advice of Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, has refused to restore Di Pietro's license pending an appeal from Judge Fisher's decision. Mr. Carpentier announced he would continue to enforce the law until a decision on its validity is handed down by the Illinois Supreme court.

Attorneys for Di Pietro contended that the law grants discretion to the secretary of state in matters that should be decided by the courts and cited especially a provision under which the secretary may suspend or revoke a license of a driver who is "habitually reckless or negligent." They pointed out that a driver might plead guilty to three violations merely to save the time and trouble of waiting for his cases to be called in court even though he was innocent of the charges.

It is hard to generate much sympathy for such a driver who has had three chances at court hearings. It is even harder to feel sorry for Di Pietro, who has a record of 14 traffic violations in 22 months including 11 charges of running through stop and go lights. At one time there were five warrants for his arrest outstanding, indicating that he paid no attention to notices of arrest.

Di Pietro not only passed up three chances for court hearings, but he failed to appear for a hearing before the secretary of state, to which he is entitled under the law. If that hearing had gone against him, he could have appealed for a court hearing under the administrative review act, which makes all decisions of administrative officers subject to court review. It does not appear that he had exhausted all his legal remedies before he applied to Judge Fisher.

Twenty-eight states have driver license laws which grant discretionary authority to the chief licensing officer to revoke or suspend licenses. Several cases testing this authority have been carried to the high courts of other states and in every instance the law has been upheld.

These courts have ruled that operating a motor vehicle is a privilege, not a right, like the ownership of property. It is true that some drivers use their cars as a means of making a living, and licenses therefore are valuable. Obviously no driver should be deprived of his license capriciously, and the Illinois law therefore contains safeguards against possible abuses by the secretary of state or his staff.

There is no evidence that Secretary Carpentier has been capricious in his methods. In the first six months of this year he has revoked 3,306 licenses, all for serious offenses like manslaughter, drunken driving, and leaving the scene of an accident. These are mandatory under the law; the secretary of state has no discretion.

Since the first of the year only 503 licenses have been suspended. Before such action is taken the secretary of state sends two warning letters, and if a driver makes a written request for a hearing it is granted. Not one appeal from a hearing has been filed under the administrative review act. With 4½ million drivers in the state, it appears that Secretary Carpentier has leaned over backward to be fair.

Some way must be found to keep drivers like Di Pietro off the streets and highways of Illinois.

Let's Have an Honest "Yardstick"

A news article in the New York Times says that the Hoover Commission has been preparing a report recommending "that rates for all Federally-produced electric power be increased. The commission would place all such projects under the Federal Power Commission and revise rates to include the 'equivalent' of Federal, state and local taxes and other costs now paid by private power companies."

This proposal will be bitterly protested by two groups—those who want to keep on having their electric bills subsidized by all the rest of us, and those whose dream is a federal electric power monopoly. Everyone else—which means the vast majority of the people—should applaud it. Federal power projects either pay no taxes at all or relatively small sums in lieu of taxes to local government—the business-managed utilities pay an average of 23 per cent of all their revenues in taxes. Federal projects have all manner of other costly advantages—each and every one of which must be paid for by the general taxpayers.

There is growing resentment at this situation. A widely-held view was expressed by Representative Hand of New Jersey when he said that he was unable to accept the proposition that the people of his state "should be taxed to build steam plants in Tennessee so the people of that area can obtain cheap electricity." "To add insult to injury," he continued, "the people of other states are not only paying the cost of that power development, but at the same time we are losing our industries." Nobody can compete when the public Treasury foots a part of the bills.

Put Federal power on the same basis of doing business as private power—and then we'll finally learn what the federal "yard stick" rate structure should be.

A new use for television is being created, says the National Association of Optometrists. It is in the field of preventive eye care; an aid in treating certain visual malfunctions.

It is similar to 3-D movies; a polaroid filter is used on the picture tube and filter lenses are worn by the patient. This treatment often restores normal co-ordination.

We at COURTEOUS TV do not understand the optometric techniques of this treatment but we do know how to keep your TV set operating to its peak efficiency. A full, clear, sharp picture and good tone are necessary for viewing pleasure. Phone Antioch 144 for prompt, satisfactory service.

Public Service Company's
"LITTLE BILL" says:

"I'll keep you cool electrically—for pennies a day"

For about 2 cents
you can cool, clean and dehumidify the air in an average-size bedroom for a full hour. And if your room air conditioner has a thermostat, a cool night's sleep
costs only a few cents more.

Look how electricity helps you beat the heat for only a few cents:

2 hours for a penny—that's all it costs to run a big night-cooling fan. Smaller fans will run 6 hours for a cent!

For pennies a day you can cook the coolest way. Electric ranges keep a kitchen up to 10 degrees cooler.

How Public Service Company keeps your electric bill down
(while everything else goes up)

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

The hotter the weather, the more electricity your family uses to help beat the heat. But surprisingly enough, while almost everything costs double today, you get almost twice as much electricity for your money as you did 25 years ago.

How is Public Service Company able to keep your electric bill so low? One important reason is about a billion dollars' worth of modern plants and equipment your electric company has invested in during the last 25 years. This has helped increase the electrical production of our employees by more than double.

In fact, with this saving and others, the electricity you use today actually costs you less per kilowatt-hour than it did 25 years ago.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

With summer bringing its annual heavy load of traffic to the state highways, it is most important at this time of the year for motorists to be alert when a siren or other audible sound warns of the approach of an emergency vehicle, such as an ambulance, fire truck or police car.

The motorist, upon learning of the approach of such a vehicle, should yield the right-of-way and immediately drive to the right hand edge of the road and bring his vehicle to a stop. The motorist should remain in this position until the emergency vehicle passes, except when otherwise directed by a police officer. (Section 73, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

There may be an exception to this, however. When driving on a broad, one-way street in the city or on a multi-lane highway if you are traveling on the left side of traffic, it may prove wiser in such a case to move to the left to provide a pathway in the center of traffic, rather than opening the left lane only for the emergency vehicle.

Remember, too, that the law prohibits motorists from following closer than 500 feet any fire apparatus en route to a fire. Nor is it permitted to drive into or park a vehicle within the block of fire apparatus engaged in battling a blaze.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, any state and local taxes, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even factory-installed options are bargains.

We'll mince no words.

You can buy a Buick SPECIAL like the one shown here if you can buy any new car.

You can boss this big and brawny Buick Sedan for just about the price of the smaller cars—even for less than some models of the three most widely known smaller cars. The price we show here proves that.

But you can't get anywhere else for the money what you get in this or any other new Buick—and that's something you really ought to look into.

For Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs this year just because more and more people are discovering how much more automobile their dollars buy in a Buick than the same dollars buy elsewhere.

They find Buick a bigger package of automobile for the money—bigger in power thrill, in comfort, in ride steadiness, in structural solidity.

They find Buick size and styling an added prestige—Buick roadability and handling ease an added pleasure—Buick brawn and precision an added reassurance.

And they find Buick performance a thrill without peer—for where else can you get the whip-quick response and bettered gas mileage of Variable Pitch Dynaflo?[†]

Maybe you'd better drop in for a visit and see how much real automobile and fun and deep-down satisfaction your money buys in Buick.

Whether you want the low-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, or the custom-built ROADMASTER—you'll find the price more than right and the trade-in deal terrific. Can you make it today?

[†]Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

DID YOU KNOW

- *—that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- *—that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three well-known smaller cars?
- *—that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

Antioch Junior Legion Continues Losing Ways But Has Lots of Fun

The American Legion Juniors had a chance to win a game last evening against Wauconda but muffed it. Antioch lost 8 to 7. The game was a queer one.

There was the instance when the game was tied up and pitcher Ed Mack tossed the ball to first baseman Elvin Meyer thinking it was the third out and there was only two, allowing two men to score.

On the other hand Antioch knocked the famous Jean Jaskot out of the box, loading the bases, with only one out, but fell before the curves of a Wauconda relief pitcher who retired the side without a score by striking the next two men out.

Antioch lost to Wauconda there last Saturday 9 to 2. There were no other games and there will be no game tomorrow.

Warriner Subdivision....

said that he had confirmed this in conversation with Mrs. Warriner that day, and that Mrs. Warriner had told him that she had sold the land to Powles with that understanding.

"We thought we were doing it for your own good," explained Chairman Murrill Cunningham of the street committee, who with Mayor James McMillen and other members of the board who were unanimous in justifying their action.

Dead End Streets Taboo
Mayor McMillen said that as dead ends the abutting streets in the two subdivisions made difficult the removal of snow, and the handling of fire equipment.

"You are aware that good planning is opposed to dead-end streets unless there is a circle at the end with a 500 foot diameter," he said.

Atty. Larson said that he is aware of this, and suggested that as a plan for Antioch in the future, but said that the Warriner subdivision should be excepted in view of the fact that it had been laid out and conveyed to purchasers on the basis of the dead end street and seclusion which made the properties desirable and valuable.

Complaints were made that the street narrows from a 50-foot width to a 15-foot pavement, but trustees pointed out that the narrowest place is 35 feet and that the street is as narrow as it is because some of the property owners have taken over as much as 15 feet of the street for lawn purposes.

Had Planned Hospital
Warriner subdivision was the dream of the late Dr. W. W. Warriner who had planned to erect a private hospital and a residence on the land subdivided by Powles. This would have made a continuation of Windsor dr. impossible. His plan was never realized and recently Mrs. Warriner sold the area which is south of the residential subdivision to Powles.

Warriner subdivision is entered through a pillar-flanked narrow road on Main st., and a 35-foot wide street from First st. The main street road for a certain distance back from the main thoroughfare was never taken over by the city, but the drive from First street through to the end was. It has been cleared of snow occasionally and the street repaired.

The property owners said they feared that connecting the streets of the two subdivisions would make for a lot of through traffic. The trustees thought not, and said that the road through the Powles subdivision would be a shorter and better exit for those far back in the Warriner subdivision than the present entrance.

Traffic Would Be Slowed
The property owners feared that the road might become a bypass for the business section, but this was scouted by the trustees. It was admitted that traffic would become hazardous if not slowed.

The board took no action and promised a trip to the subdivisions to look things over. The matter will be brought up Mayor McMillen said at the next special meeting which will be called this month for the passage of the appropriation ordinance.

Trustee Hawkins said that to satisfy the property owners the plan to open the street might be deferred for a while, but that eventually they must expect to give way to public requirements and needs. He said that when he bought property on North Main st., there was a corn field opposite his house and few vehicles passed. Now Rt. 21 is a mad rush of traffic.

"I had to expect it," he said.
Just what the property owners would do if their wishes are not met was not announced. Their deeds do not provide for the dead end street.

Sign Tells Need for Fund for New Convent, School at St. Peter's

The Reverend A. J. Henderson, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Antioch, points to the $125,000 minimum need for the School and Convent Fund Campaign, on the new sign to be erected atop Joe's Frozen Custard Stand at the intersection of route 59 and Lake street, across from the church....The admiring spectators are the Rev. F. L. Johnson, assistant to Father Henderson, William Bosworth, co-chairman of the Campaign committee, Robert Berg, audit chairman, and Lester Hamlin, co-chairman of the campaign committee.

130 Men Indoctrinated In St. Peter's Drive For $125,000 Fund

Including the men who attended the second general meeting of the St. Peter's School and Convent Fund Campaign committee Wednesday evening in the church hall in Antioch, there are 103 members.

This represents an increase of 30 men since the first meeting held two weeks ago. The announcement was made by the Rev. A. J. Henderson, pastor of St. Peter's church. The men of the committee will attend just one more meeting before solicitation begins. On each of the evenings of Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, July 18, 19, and 20 there will be an indoctrination meeting. The men have been assigned to teams, and have been asked to attend the indoctrination meeting with their teams. If they cannot attend the meeting on the evening assigned to their team they are free to attend either of the other two meetings. However, it will be necessary that each man attend an indoctrination meeting before calling on the parishioners. Those men who cannot attend any of the meetings mentioned are asked to call the Campaign Office, Antioch 879, or the Rectory, Antioch 274, and make an appointment for a private instruction.

The campaign for a minimum goal of $125,000 is being conducted to secure the funds necessary to construct a new convent and to convert the present convent in the school to 3 additional classrooms for the overcrowded parish school. Father Henderson stated that the increase in the number of men on the committee is a wonderful indication that the spirit of the campaign has caught on and that these men will spread the fire of their enthusiasm throughout the parish.

Sunday, July 24, is the date set for the solicitation and the parishioners will be asked to remain at home that afternoon to receive Father Henderson's representatives. He asks that everyone pray for the success of the campaign.

Despite economy measures, Americans will spend a total of 15 billion dollars on vacations, with about three billion going for foreign travel. Canada will get 300 million dollars, Mexico 200 million dollars and European countries the greatest share of the remainder. Hawaii got 50 million dollars from American tourists last year and is bidding strongly for a bigger share in 1955. The islands have increased hotel accommodations by 40 per cent during the past year and one half.

More are under construction, including a luxury hotel to surpass Miami's grandest.

Millions Are Lost Each Year Through Careless Accidents

HANOVER, N. H.—It may sound astronomical, but a saving of $10,000,000,000 would be accomplished in one year if the people of the United States had "an overwhelming desire to be safe and to respect the safety of others."

This is the opinion of Dr. John V. Grimaldi, nationally prominent industrial accident prevention executive.

While firmly denying that the problem of accidents can not be solved, Dr. Grimaldi admits that the solution is not simple because "the problem is people."

Says Dr. Grimaldi: "It is probable that the average person of today is no more ready to work and live safely than his father was 40 years ago. The average human is a compound of contradictions. He is bored with safety. He is afraid to admit desire for caution because he is bold with bravado. Couple this with the mysterious psychological complex which Freud has identified in every human, urging each man to a varying degree to destroy himself, and it will be recognized that we as individuals are the principal and complex variable in the accident causation equation."

Ways to Remove Swallowed Objects

CHICAGO—Children seem to be born with the desire and ability to "introduce foreign bodies of all types into their ears, noses, and throats"; doctors are constantly developing new ways to get them out again.

New techniques plus antibiotics have reduced the need for surgical removal of pins, seeds and other items.

One of the first recorded cases of surgery of this kind was in 1620 when physicians removed nine coins swallowed by a 14-year-old boy about to be robbed of them.

One new way of removing metallic objects is by a magnet, a very small one which, attached to a string, is lowered into the throat and allowed to work its way down to the metallic object in throat or intestines, then withdrawn, pulling the object with it.

Now physicians also give antibiotics to prevent infection, then wait and watch while the object passes naturally. An unusual case reported in Los Angeles was that of a year-old boy who swallowed five open safety pins and at least 12 needles. Given antibiotics, most of the pins and needles passed were eliminated naturally, although some had to be removed by surgery.

Army Develops Arctic Subway In Greenland

WASHINGTON — The Army is carving an experimental "arctic subway" in Greenland's huge icecap and will expand the novel project if it proves feasible.

The undersnow tunnel will be about 15 miles long and about 25 feet below the surface. If all goes well, electric "subway trains" may one day be scooting under Greenland's icy mountains.

The idea behind such a subway would be to avoid such problems as weather, navigation, and trail marking involved in surface travel on the 700,000-square-mile arctic icecap that covers almost all Greenland.

While the Army did not say so, the underground network also would be invisible to enemy bombers flying the arctic route from Russia. The Army has already built a number of installations under the ice to house men operating the U.S. air station in Greenland.

Army engineers say the cost of the tunnel "probably would be much less than the average U.S. secondary road."

Button Maker Ready For Ike's Acceptance

PITTSBURGH — Arthur Garfield Trimble, button and badge maker, who claims he coined the "I Like Ike" slogan for the 1952 presidential election, says he is all set to go again if President Eisenhower decides to run in 1956.

Trimble was one of those boosting Eisenhower before he had indicated willingness to enter the 1952 race, and he was ready with his buttons and badges when the time came. He also had "I Told You So" buttons ready for the victory celebration.

Cleaned Cash

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Bartender Joe Lopez put $81 in change in a bank sack and then hid it in what he thought to be a safe place—a laundry bag.

While Lopez slept, a laundryman collected the bag.

Wearied laundry workers searched through thousands of pounds of soiled clothes, but were unable to turn up the missing money.

Holstein Cow Completes Production Test

Brattleboro, Vt. — With 17,339 pounds of milk and 584 pounds of butterfat to her credit, Dolly Cascade Jo Educator, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Robert L. Hunter, Antioch, has completed a 316-day production test in official Advanced Registry.

She was milked 2 times daily, and was 5 years 7 months of age when she began her testing period.

Her record averages approximately 28 quarts of milk daily for the period covered by her test.

Testing was supervised by the University of Illinois, in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

BUYS PUREBRED MILKING SHORTHORNS

Charles Huthsing, Jr., Libertyville, Ill., has added to his herd by the purchase of two heifer calves and a four-year-old cow from Argyll Farm, Antioch.

The new animals are purebred Milking Shorthorns and the record of the transfer of ownership has been made by the American Milking Shorthorn Society of Springfield, Missouri.

There are few husbands whom the wife cannot win in the long run by patience and love, unless they are harder than the rocks which the soft waters penetrate in time.

Cow Gives 25 Qts. Daily

A holstein cow of Alfred H. Ames herd on Rte. 173 west of Zion set a record of 621 pounds of butterfat, 15,765 pounds of milk over a period of 298 days of twice-a-day milking.

This was an average of 25 quarts of milk daily. The cow named Taylor Grove Ty Vic Lark, was six years, three months old when the test was begun under the Herd Improvement Registry.

"AND WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP?"

THIS FAMILIAR QUESTION OFTEN BRINGS FROM YOUNGSTERS REPLIES REFLECTING THE GLAMOR OF THEIR HEROES OF THE MOMENT.

CHOOSING A CAREER IS PART OF THE PROCESS OF GROWING UP AND WISE PARENTS ENCOURAGE THE NATURAL BENTS AND MATURING ASPIRATIONS OF THEIR CHILDREN. THEY ALSO INSTILL SUCH FUNDAMENTALS AS SPIRITUAL VALUES, HARD WORK AND THRIFT, SO THAT, WHATEVER THE LIFE WORK CHOSEN, THERE IS A GOOD FOUNDATION ON WHICH TO BUILD.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Army is very touchy about the Post Exchange service. Although some claim the Post Exchange is the biggest U. S. retailer, this is not accurate. PX service ranks among top ten on annual business of slightly more than $367 million as reported by the Army.

This volume is on a long list of items including: dinnerware, civilian clothing, electrical appliances, golf clubs, many others, all sold far below existing retail prices.

20,000 civilians are employed by this enterprise, plus partial or full time services of some 200 officers, headed up by a major general.

The Army claims PX's are almost self supporting, and in the next breath claims on gross profit of 22.10%, a net profit of 8.04% is returned to provide recreation for servicemen.

This causes some businessmen to consider joining Army to learn how to operate a business on 14.06% overhead.

Army figures on PX operation are interesting.

Army claims enlisted men spend only 15% to 20% of pay in PX's, officers only 10%.

Yet, same army figures show average servicemen spend $281.04 in PX's per year. Therefore, based on 15% of his pay spent in PX's his total buying potential is $1873.60 per year. In 1951 U. S. per capita income was $1367 out of which comes medicines, clothing, housing, many other items which servicemen receive free.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Army figures show that the average serviceman spends $36.53 per year for clothing in PX's, while per capita expenditure for civilian without uniform issue, is only $73.43.

Army figures show average soldier spends $11.24 per year for jewelry in PX's. National jewelry store sales only average $8.24 per capita per year.

The Army claims average soldier spends $18.86 per year for drug items in PX's. National retail drug store sales which included medicines and prescriptions not sold by PX's and also many items Army probably lists as sundries are only $33 per capita annually.

Army claims PX's are essential to hold good men.

A contradiction appears. A per capita buying power of $1873.60 per year, plus food, housing, clothing, medical care, et cetera, is quite attractive, if true.

If not true, figures could reflect substantial civilian buying through PX's.

A special subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee issued a brief report last summer denying any great irregularities, yet citing some instances in lapse of rules prohibiting civilian sales repeat also condemned payment of bonuses to PX clerks for increased sales.

But report lacked thoroughness and detail that is feature of many Congressional reports, especially those of the House and Senate Small Business Committees.

So a lot of questions are still unanswered. In fact, Army's own figures on PX operations confuse. U. S. Armed Forces, world's finest military organization, are not noted for accounting and business talents.

Antioch Exhibitors Win Honors at Black-White Show Held in Connection With Farm-City Picnic

Antioch area Holstein breeders and 4-H club exhibitors carried off many honors yesterday at the Black and White show held in connection with the Farm-City picnic at Gages Lake.

Linda Cording, Antioch, won the girls' showmanship and the reserve championship with her animal Hickory Creek Princess Sal. She is a member of the Grayslake 4-H Club because Antioch has no club.

Four-H grand champion was Paty Salesman, Waukegan, who will be remembered in Antioch as the little girl who saved her brother, Jimmie from their burning trailer at the Ravenscroft farm at Hickory Corners a few years ago. The family now operates the former Rooney No. 2 farm.

David Vose, son of Avery Vose, Crawford rd., won the boys' showman ship contest, and thereby became a repeater in this respect.

Other blue ribbon winners were Linda Cording, Antioch, senior heifer, and Avery Vose, aged cow. In the adult showings, Elmwood Farms of Lake Forest took top honors with the grand championship, a 9-year-old cow; championship bull and junior championship.

Excellent weather drew a large crowd to the Gages Lake Picnic park for a day of entertainment and relaxation.

Miss Barbara Bengert of Montgomery Ward Co., Waukegan, won the city queen contest and Joan Wagner, Grayslake, won the rural queen contest.

No wonder this great
'55 Pontiac is setting
all-time sales records!

It's bigger, smarter and more powerful than any other car at anything like the price!

A sales success like Pontiac's starts on the drawing boards—with engineers and designers who have been schooled for years in the Pontiac idea of giving more people more car for less money.

With its long 122" or 124" wheelbase and extra, big-car heft, Pontiac provides road-hugging comfort you get in no other car near it in price!

Now take this big, roomy car and surround it with the distinction of Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning—beauty that obviously is calling the turn on the future—and you have another reason for Pontiac's phenomenal sales success.

That alone would be enough for most cars—but not for Pontiac!

Pontiac corners the market on value with the most powerful engine within hundreds of dollars of its price. The sensational 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* is the most modern power you can buy. You're on even terms with anything on the road—and you enjoy the greatest economy and dependability in Pontiac history.

If by now you're thinking "This is what I've wanted all along!", we suggest you stop in and talk dollars and cents. That's when you'll get the final reason for Pontiac's record popularity—the fact that you can fit a big, powerful, future-fashioned Pontiac into any new-car budget!

You'll never find it easier to get into the fine-car class than right now! *Low extra cost option
